JUBILEE YEAR OF MERCY

"We are called to serve Christ the Crucified through every marginalized person. We touch the flesh of Christ in he who is outcast, hungry, thirsty, naked, imprisoned, ill, unemployed, persecuted, in search of refuge. That is where we find our God. That is where we touch the Lord."
Pope Francis

GOSPEL REFLECTION

A GREAT CHASM: SCOTT HAHN REFLECTS ON THE 26TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

By Scott Hahn, St. Paul Center for Biblical Theology

The rich and powerful are visited with woe and exile in today's Liturgy—not for their wealth but for their refusal to share it; not for their power but for their indifference to the suffering at their door.

The complacent leaders in today's First Reading feast on fine foods and wines, reveling while the house of Joseph, the kingdom of Israel (see Amos 5:6), collapses around them.

The rich man in today's Gospel also lives like a king—dressed in royal purple and fine linen (see 1 Maccabees 8:14).

The rich man symbolizes Israel's failure to keep the Old Covenant, to heed the commandments of Moses and the prophets. This is the sin of the rulers in today's First Reading. Born to the nation God favored first, they could claim Abraham as their father. But for their failure to give - their inheritance is taken away.

The rulers are exiled from their homeland. The rich man is punished with an exile far greater—eternity with a "great chasm" fixed between himself and God.

In this world, the rich and powerful make a name for themselves (see Genesis 11:4) and dine sumptuously, while the poor remain anonymous, refused an invitation to their feasts.

But notice that the Lord today knows Lazarus by name, and Joseph in his sufferings—while the leaders and the rich man have no name.

Today's Liturgy is a call to repentance—to heed the warning of One who was raised from the dead. To lay hold of the eternal life He promises, we must pursue righteousness and keep the commandment of love, as Paul exhorts in today's Epistle.

"The Lord loves the just," we sing in today's Psalm. And in this Eucharist we have a foretaste of the love that will be ours in the next life—when He will raise the lowly to the heavenly banquet with Abraham and the prophets (see Luke 13:28), where we too will rest our heads on the bosom of our Lord (see John 13:23).

REFLEXIÓN DEL EVANGELIO

UN GRAN ABISMO: SCOTT HAHN REFLEJA SOBRE EL 26º DOMINGO DE TIEMPO ORDINARIO

Por Scott Hahn, St. Paul Center for Biblical Theology

Los ricos y poderosos son visitados por el infortunio y el exilio en la liturgia de este domingo; no por su riqueza, sino por negarse a compartirla; no por su poder sino por su indiferencia a los que sufren ante su puerta.

Los muy cómodos líderes de la primera lectura se dan banquetes de finos platillos y vinos deleitándose, mientras la casa de José, el reino de Israel (cfr. Am 5,6), se colapsa a su alrededor. El hombre rico del Evangelio también vive como rey, vestido de púrpura real y lino fino (1 M 8,14).

El hombre rico simboliza el fracaso de Israel en mantener la antigua alianza, en obedecer los mandamientos de Moisés y los profetas. Ese es el pecado de los gobernantes en la primera lectura de esta semana. Nacidos en la nación favorita de Dios, ellos podrían clamar a Abraham como padre; pero ya que no son capaces de dar, les es quitada su herencia.

Los gobernantes son exiliados de su patria. El hombre rico es castigado con un exilio mucho mayor: una eternidad en la que existe un “gran abismo” entre él y Dios. En este mundo, los ricos y poderosos se hacen famosos (cfr. Gn 11,4) y cenan suntuosamente, mientras los pobres permanecen anónimos, rechazados de sus banquetes.

Pero es notable que, en el Evangelio, el Señor conoce a Lázaro por su nombre, y a José en sus sufrimientos, mientras los líderes y el hombre rico no tienen nombre.

La liturgia de este domingo es una llamada al arrepentimiento, a poner atención a Aquel que fue levantado de los muertos. Él nos promete que, para permanecer unidos a la vida eterna, debemos practicar la justicia, cumplir el mandamiento del amor, a lo que Pablo exhorta en la epístola de hoy.

“El Señor ama a los justos”, cantamos en el salmo de este domingo. Y en esta Eucaristía pregustamos el amor que será nuestro en la otra vida, cuando Él levantará los humildes para llevarlos al banquete celestial con Abraham y los profetas (cfr. Lc 13,28), donde también nosotros recostaremos la cabeza en el pecho de nuestro Señor (cfr. Jn 13,23).
